2. Mr. Michaels had indicated desire for general orientation on U-2 problems, FMSAC, and Research and Development in ORD. Dr. Wheelon fielded Michael's questions and led the discussion as outlined below.

Question - Why would there be consideration for more U-2 production [redacted]

Discussion - Our inventory of U-2 is getting desperately low. Both CIA and SAC need new U-2s in the immediate future with improved capability. [redacted]

Question - How does FMSAC tie in with SMAC in DIA and isn't this duplication?

Discussion - Dr. Wheelon gave a frank, thorough and convincing run-down on the entire history of FMSAC, its creation, objectives, and our deliberations with DOD. Michaels intimated he probably would probe DOD on the same question.

Dr. Wheelon also briefed Michaels on the entire DD/S&T organization alluding only briefly to ORD problems. There was not enough time to get a complete pitch on ORD and we can anticipate a meeting in the future with Michaels on the subject.

3. A brief visit to FMSAC to observe the center in operation completed the afternoon session. [redacted] of FMSAC gave a good briefing on what was happening along with [redacted]
